

Establishing the Lineage of Terchen Barway Dorje in the West

Terchen Barway Dorje, who lived at the end of the nineteenth and the beginning of the twentieth century, was a student of the 9th Tai Situ Rinpoche, Chokgyur Dechen Lingpa, and many other masters of his time. Initially associated with Surmang Monastery, Terchen Barway Dorje devoted a good portion of his life to reviving the lost teachings of Barom Kagyu and revealing nine volumes of the treasure teachings. Those teachings had been concealed by Guru Padmasambhava and two of his twenty-five principal disciples—Yeshe Tsogyal, his consort, and Nupchen Sangye Yeshe, the prime minister during the time of the king Trisong Detsen. Terchen Barway Dorje was an incarnation of both Yeshe Tsogyal and Nupchen Sangye Yeshe. Toward the end of his life, Terchen Barway Dorje founded the Raktrul Monastery.

Bardor Tulku Rinpoche, the founder and spiritual director of Kunzang Palchen Ling, is the third incarnation of Terchen Barway Dorje. Today, he is bringing the rich tradition of his lineage of treasure teachings to the United States through Kunzang Palchen Ling. In addition, it is Rinpoche's aspiration to offer KPL as a place for western students to encounter the teachings of all four major traditions of Tibetan Buddhism.

Benefits of Membership

By joining the membership of Kunzang Palchen Ling (KPL), you will be supporting the efforts of Bardor Tulku Rinpoche to preserve the lineage teachings and practices of his predecessor Terchen Barway Dorje. As a member, you will not only receive discounts on all teachings offered at KPL, you will also benefit other beings by

- Helping to make available a center where the wisdom of all four major lineages of Tibetan Buddhism is taught;
- Enabling KPL to reduce the costs of its programs so that more people, regardless of their means, can attend the teachings, empowerments, and practices;
- Supporting a tradition that emphasizes developing loving-kindness and compassion for all beings.

Five categories of membership are available to help fit your budgetary needs, and if you wish, your annual membership dues can be spread over the year rather than being paid all at once.
